ASAD (2)

Any good endeavour is begun by a prayer to Ganesh or Saraswati. Hence this second subhhAshita of ASAD is dedicated to Saraswati:

One who is as white as a garland of kunda flowers and waterdrops, who has worn white apparel, whose hand is placed on the stem of the vINA, who is sitting on a white lotus, and who is always worshipped by Gods such as Brahma, Achyuta (Vishnu) and Shankara, that Sarasvati, who completely steals (one’s) lethargy may bless me ...

In this third verse of ASAD, learn three things from the donkey...
(He) carries loads without rest, is not deterred by the heat or cold, is always content these three things should be learnt from the donkey

ASAD (5)

This subhAshita is a prayer to Shankara. It has a nice verbal composition Equipped with a spear(pinAka), snake(phaNi), the crescent of the moon(bAlendu), ashes and the ganga, may this idol composed from the 'pa varga' (the consonants pa, pha, ba, bha, ma) lead us to heaven (apavarga).

(here is a riddle )

The apparent meaning: O Lotus eyed, I wish to drink water from you. If you give it to me, I do not want it, but if you dont give it, I shall drink it !!! (which obviously makes no sense..) The solution: the trick is in the word “dAsyasi” which has been interpreted above as the future tense form of the verb ’dA’ meaning to give. However it is correctly interpreted as the sandhi dAsi + asi Hence the second line actually means, if you are a dAsi, I dont want it, but if you are not a dAsi I shall drink it. Perhaps this goes back to the times where braAhmins would not accept even water if it was touched by untouchable dAsis..

(There are many verses that praise the effects of good company. However this is my favourite among them)

You cant even notice a hint of a drop of water fallen on hot iron. The same drop shines like a pearl on a lotus leaf. And in the 'swati' nakShatra fallen inside a sea shell, it becomes a pearl .. Usually excellent, medium and bad states (of a person) are dependent on company. Again as Marathi speaking people will recognise, this is exactly identical to the following marathi verse :

(I think many people know this verse that praises knowledge)
It cannot be stolen by thieves, cannot be taken away by the king, cannot be divided among brothers and does not cause a load. If spent, it always multiplies. The wealth of knowledge is the greatest among all wealths.

When in combat against each other we are 5 and they are hundred. But when against others, we are a hundred and five ...

(obviously refers to Kauravas and Pandavas. I believe this is supposed to be said by Dharma.)

The wise man acquires knowledge and wealth as if he is never going to die. And he practices religion as if he is tightly held in his hair by death.

Here’s another one I believe accredited to Kalidasa

The birth of one lotus on another has neither been seen nor heard of. Little girl, how is it that on your lotus face there are these two lotuses?
One more subhasitam that starts with “kamale”

On the lotus sits Goddess KamalA (LakShmi), Hara (Lord Shiva) resides in the HimAlayAs. In the vortex of the churning ocean resides Hari (Lord VishNu), I know this precisely.

May Laxmi, whose lotus like feet are praised by the trinity and the sun(?) make me her lotus (ie, abode) your interpretation of kamalArikiriTa is perfect. the moon is the enemy of the lotus because when the moon rises, the lotus closes itself.

hence kamalabhRidvAha is the carrier of the carrier of a lotus, which is the cloud or the lord varuna.

there is no special reason for using both stuta and nuta .. stuta means praised, and nuta means saluted..

however, the best part is “karotu me kamalaM” the word ka has many meanings. one among them is “evil”. “alaM” means enough. Hence karotu me kaM aLaM means may she end all my evil ...
As all the water fallen from the skies goes to the sea, similarly salutations to any God finally reach Keshava.

Reactions to calamities should be considered well in advance. It is no good to start digging a well when the house is on fire!

Overall meaning: the sweet crying of the cuckoo in spring has the intention of the “nikraika” of the beautiful mango petal..

This shloka was poorly transliterated.. please refer the following transliteration guidelines when transliterating sanskrit into English. This will result in others understanding your shlokas more easily .. and hence responding quicker...

ASAD (13)

What can a wicked person do to someone who has the weapon of forgiveness in his hands? Fire fallen on ground without any grass extinguishes by itself.

forgiveness is the strength of the weak. forgiveness is the ornament of the mighty. if the world is conquered by forgiveness, what cannot be accomplished by forgiveness?

wrong in the first half of second line of the above verse itself!

Even to get the meaning “In the world, forgiveness has the power of conquering”, the words look odd ... Does “vashikrute” give this meaning?

$vashi$ = conquered. $vashi+kRi$ = to conquer $vashi+kRi$ = conquered.

kShamAvashIkRite loke is a “sati saptami” usage. it is to be interpreted as yadA lokaH kShamAvashIkRitaH tada (when the world is conquered by forgiveness) In the sati saptami usage, the saptami vibhaki is used to denote the temporal relationship between two successive events so basically it means, even when the world can be conquered by forgiveness, what else remains ??

ASAD (14)

Laxmi resides at the tip of the hand, sarasvati in the middle, Govinda at the root. Hence one should take “darshan” of one’s hand in the morning.

If I rememeber the sloka it is “karamule tu gouricha” it’s not govondaH.

Laxmi resides at the tip of the hand, sarasvati in the middle, Gouri(Parvati) at the root. Hence one should take “darshan” of one’s hand in the morning.

Hi Padma.

glad to see you on the list. you are probably right about “karamUle tu gauri cha” this makes a more consistent subhAshita but sometimes there are more than one versions of a subhAshita in existence with small differences and both of them are “correct” again, gauri makes a better pATH than govindaH ....

thanks !

(fwd)

Thanks for the sholka. This shoka about Kshama and the line of thinking and other features that go with it were adopted by Gandhiji for our freedom.

There was the other group (jahal) who asked questions like what should be done for the person who is determined to kill you regardless of what you are thinking. Examples were given from the 2nd war and how a certain group of people was removed by force etc. So the jahals justified their line of thinking.

I have come across “karamulethu govinda” in my child hood. recently I heard even the other one “ karamu lethu gauri cha”.

So obviously the subhashitham was subjected to changes as time passed , We cannot argue which is correct as we don’t know the exact source of this work.. Let us accept both, as both are having good meanings.

“At the top of the hand resides LakShmi.
In the middle of the hand resides Sarasvati.
At the bottom of the hand resides Brahma.
In the morning, the sight of the hands (is auspicious).”

“O goddess with the mantle of oceans.
adorned with the breasts of mountains.
O the consort of Vishnu, salutations to thee!
Note: The above prayers are generally recited as soon as one gets up from the bed. In the first sloka, LakShmi stands for spiritual wealth, Sarasvati for spiritual knowledge and Brahma for spiritual wisdom.

According to the Hindu mythology, God Vishnu has two wives, Sri Devi (LakShmi) and Bhoomi Devi (Earth). They are supposed to be residing on His chest. For defiling the Earth with our feet and also with our body fluids, we beseech Her pardon.

This concludes the Earth Day specials.

The crow is black, and the cuckoo is black. What is the difference between the two? It is when spring arrives that the crow is identified as the crow, and the cuckoo, the cuckoo.

Poets say that the heart of a good man is like butter, but that is not correct. The heat (frustration/sorrow/etc.) residing in another body does not melt butter, but it does melt the good man.

I do not know whether the following two verses were indeed like a sawAl jawAb, but it definitely seems so
The first verse: What is so strange about women tying glass, beads and gold all on one thread? Even the great thinker paNini tied the dog, the youth and Indra on the same string.. (pun on the word sUtra)

The second verse: Gautam’s wife was forcibly molested by the youth Indra. (who acted) like a dog. the great thinker pAnini tied the dog, the youth and Indra on the same string ...

I guess I should have clarified. the three words: shvA (dog) yuvA (youth) and maghavA (indra) belong to the same grammatical class .. they are declined identically, and there is a sUtra (rule) in Panini’s grammar that ties them together. ...

hence the pun on sUtra...

ASAD (18)

The penniless man wishes for a hundred, the onw who has hundred wants a thousand, the one with a thousand , a lakh. The one with a lakh wants to be the king, the king wants to be the emperor, and the emperor wants to be Indra (king of Gods), Indra want’s brahma’s position, brahma shiva’s and shiva viShNu’s ... who has ever been able to kill desire?

ASAD (19)

Whether the philosophers praise him or criticize, whether lakShmi enters the house or goes away as she wishes, whether death is today itself or after an eon, great men never step a foot away from the path of justice.

Asad (20)

Hi.

Padma pointed out a typo I had made. Instead of pa ncha, I had just written pa na ... The corrected shloka is as follows :

five mouthed himself(Shiva), and sons the elephant mouth (Ganesh) and the one with six mouths (Kartikeya) .. how would shiva survive if Annapurna (Parvati) was not at home

Asad (21)

Himself the great lord, his father in law the king of mountains, his friend the king of wealth, his and his son the lord of the gaNas. even then roaming around begging for food is shiva’s destiny only god’s wish is powerful ...

Asad (23)
O cloud, you roar, but do not give water. I, the chatak bird am thirsty. If fatefully the southern winds blow here, where shall you be, where shall I be and where shall it rain?

ASAD (22)

O chatak, my friend, listen for a moment with an alert mind. there are many clouds in the sky, not all of them are alike. Some wet the earth by their showers, whereas some just roar. Dont beg pitifully in front of each and every one you come across!

ASAD (24)

The night shall go away and it shall be dawn. The sun will rise and the lotus will smile! While the bumblebee trapped in the lotus was thinking this, Alas! an elephant uprooted the lotus!

ASAD (25)

I believe this is the first piece of verse in Sanskrit; composed by Valmiki
O niShAda, you will not come to glory till the end of eternity. for you have killed one from a pair of krauncha birds, enraptured in love.

This is the first shloka in Ramayana as Krishna told me some time ago. As the meaning indicates, Valmiki was inspired to write this shloka when he saw a hunter shooting one of two krauncha birds who were engaged in rati.

I believe this is the first piece of verse in Sanskrit; composed by Valmiki.

O niShAda, you will not come to glory till the end of eternity. for you have killed one from a pair of krauncha birds, enraptured in love.

This is the first shloka in Ramayana as Krishna told me some time ago. As the meaning indicates, Valmiki was inspired to write this shloka when he saw a hunter shooting one of two krauncha birds who were engaged in rati.

This was one of the first shlokas that I learned in my Sanskrit class in the 5th grade, and all the info below is based on what I learned then. most of the people on this net may already be familiar with the significance of this shloka. ever composed by Adikavi (first poet) vAlmIki.

He was in a peaceful state of mind (either meditating or taking a walk) when this niShAda (hunter) killed the male krauncha (swan?). vAlmIki got angry with the actions of the hunter and this shloka came out of his mouth. After vAlmIki emerged out of his rage, he realized that he had gone out of the state of equanimity and cursed the hunter out.

It was then that someone else (nArada?) appeared and told him that he had uttered the first piece of poetry and explained to him that there was a second meaning behind the shloka.

I don’t remember what the other interpretation of this shloka is except that the hunter is rAma and the krauncha(s) are rAvaNa and mandodarI, and that rAma kills rAvaNa. I don’t remember what the second interpretation of the shrApa (curse) is when applied to rAma.
So this is how the shloka fits into the rAmayaNa.

Inferior men do not start (any endeavor) with the fear of obstructions. Average men, stop an endeavor when they are faced with problems. However, even though they are struck again and again by disaster, superior men never give up an endeavor that they have undertaken.

ASAD (28)
The lion, even when a cub, attacks jumps upon the cheek of an intoxicated elephant. It is indeed the nature of the courageous: the age of the glorious ones is never relevant.

and for the marathi crowd, here’s a marathi translation:

a Nkura means the first sprout. yathA bIjastathA NkuraH is a very famous proverb. it basically means as you sow, so you reap ...

As two logs of wood come together in the ocean, and immediately go away from each other, so much alike is mankind ...

and for the marathi people, another translation: this one from the geeta rAmAyana by madgulkar in the song

“అయిని తీసుకోని సహా బాగా గలదాం”
One should not steal anything belonging to anyone, should not utter a sensitive sentence, should remember (bow down to) Vishnu’s feet, and thus swim the ocean of life with ease.

ASAD (31)
This ASAD is a small tribute to my sanskrit teacher, Late Shri Vasant Nanivadekar. He used to reside in Bombay, and was very well versed with the sanskrit classics as well as conversational sanskrit. He was an active “kAryakartA” in many sanskrit related projects and activities in Bombay. Above all, along with my mother he was the one who had introduced me to this great world of Sanskrit verse and literature. (See his booklet amarasamvAadaH Sanskrit Prayer Arati Collection on the site.)

What follows is his translation of Tennyson’s “Home they brought her warrior dead” into sanskrit verse.

Home they brought her warrior dead
She nor swooned nor uttered cry
All her maidens watching said
“She must weep or she will die.”

Then they praised him soft and low Called him worthy to be loved
Truest friend and noblest foe
Yet she neither spoke, nor moved.

Stole a maiden from her place
Lightly to the warrior stept
Took the face cloth from the face
Yet she neither moved, nor wept.

Rose a nurse of nintey years
Set his child upon her knee
Like summer tempest came her tears
“Sweet my child, I live for thee!”

ASAD (32)
The man without (love of) literature music or the arts is indeed an animal without a tail or horns. The fact that he survives even without eating grass is indeed a great piece of luck for the other animals.

ASAD (33)
This one is similar to ASAD(32)
in meaning:

Those who do not have learning, perseverance, are not charitable, do not have wisdom, character, good qualities or religion, are indeed a burden to on the earth in the mortal world, and live as animals in the form of man.

ASAD (34)

The teachers who distribute knowledge among the students after getting it from their gurus, and who are storehouses of love and knowledge, are indeed like God to me.

ASAD (35)

speed is the ornament of the horse, the intoxicated state is the ornament of the elephant. Cleverness is the ornament of a woman, and industriousness is the ornament of a man.

The ink may be like a black mountain, the sea may be the inkpot, A branch of the tree of gods (kalpataru / mandAra ...I believe there are five of them) may be used as a pen, and the whole earth be used as the paper. If even Sharada (Goddess Sarasvati) writes for all the time using all this material, even then, O lord, she will not come to the end of describing your good qualities.
I haven’t heard this one before, so the following may be off the mark to some extent
Giving, return of courtesy, sharing secrets, asking (for one’s welfare?) eating (with one?) , feeding, these are six characteristics of love.

Need meaning of subhAShita

"Six symptoms of affection are giving, receiving, explaining in confidence and enquiring, accepting food and feeding."

Henry Groover (AgrAhya dAsa)

I haven’t heard this one before, so the following may be off the mark to some extent
Giving, return of courtesy, sharing secrets, asking (for one’s welfare?) eating (with one?) , feeding, these are six characteristics of love.
you are almost right. here is the accurate meaning :
gives, takes, tells and asks secrets, eats (from you) and feeds (you) are the six characteristics of love ... (friendship would perhaps be more appropriate here .. )
When the money is gone (become poor), the hunger increases
At the time of trouble, the enemities crop up when you are divided (without unity), problems become plenty.
I do not know the meaning of “abhIkShNaM”. The meaning of first line depends upon this word.
I think “samudbhada.nti” should be “samudbhava.nti”.
Basically, the SubhAshita is trying to tell us that problems crop up only when you are devoid of the solution!
(Murphy’s law ?)

I do not know the meaning of “abhIkShNaM”. The meaning of first line depends upon this word.
Dictionary gives the meaning of abhIkShaNam as “every moment”; it fits here, but is somewhat puzzling. With this meaning, the first pada means When wounded, blows fall every moment (The wounded get hit repeatedly)
IF it is abhikShaNaM, the first line will not obey the meter of the shloka. besides that everything makes sense. (it is basically a version of “when it rains, it pours “...

ASAD (keshavaM patitaM dRiShTvA)

One of the let me catch my breath shlokas?
Actually this is a fairly famous one. The “correct” interpretation:

notive that ke and shava have been separated. The word “ka” means water (among several other meanings). Hence ke means in water. pANDava also means fish; kaurava also means crow. hence the interpretation is :
Seeing the cadaver (shava) fallen in water, the fish were overjoyed. All the crows however started crying .. “ O the cadaver in water !!!”

ASAD (46)

Hence spending it without purpose is a great mistake.
The poetry of poets is always for their own satisfaction, However, like the light on the porch of the master’s house, it is also beneficial to others. (light from the porch illuminates the inside as well as the outside of a house ... )
Seeing is given twice as much importance as speaking by Brahma. Man has two eyes, however, only one tongue was created.

Vivek Khare asked me the meaning of the word “hi” in the subhAshita : udyamena hi sidhyanti ....

The word hi means nothing. Perhaps it could be interpreted here as an emphaser, but otherwise, it means literaly nothing. The words cha vai tu and hi are used in sanskrit by poets to fill up the meter. the words cha and tu have meanings, (and and but respectively) but the word vai has no meaning, and the word hi may be interpreted as something that emphasizes a point.

In fact I am sure many of you know the famous first attempt by a quack poet:

Work is accomplished by effort, not by wishing. Deer do not enter the mouth of a sleeping lion.
The poet thought up these three lines:

O king, (rajendra), get up get up! (uttiShTha) mukhaM prakShAlayasva (wash your face!) The rooster cries out in the morning (prabhAte roditi kukkuTaH)

the problem was after uttishThottiShTha rAjendra, mukhaM prakShAlayasva left one letter less for the eight letter anuShTubh Chanda, and prabhAte roditi kukkuTaH had one letter extra! so this grandmaster took the “TaH” from kukkuTaH and placed it at the end of the first line! And now he had three out of four parts, and he just could not think of anything for the last part of the verse hence cha vai tu hi cha vai tu hi !!!!

ASAD (59)

The great man is rarely someone who talks too much, but the inferior man talks too much. There is no sound from gold as there is from bronze.

Meaning:
Between ‘ChintA’ (worry) and ‘ChitA’ (pyre) the only difference is dot (anuswAra bindu in chintA, that ’n’). Pyre burns the dead, while worry burns the living. DON’T WORRY BE HAPPY :) Ganapthi.

The difference betn “CHINTA” and “CHITA” is just a dot. “PYRE” burns the dead, while “WORRY” burns the living.

Even a good turn done to a bad man results in evil. Drinking of milk by snakes is only going to result in increase of their poison.

I Thought you may like this subhashitha.

The great ones are famous by their own efforts, The average are famous because of their father. The inferior men are famous because of their uncle. and the worst among them are famous because of their father in law.

Bhavartha: A scholar even if he is from a backword class, is recognised and respected even in the company of the people who are most beautiful. who have great family background, and even among the gods.

maternal uncle
The great ones are famous by their own efforts, The average are famous because of their father. The inferior men are famous because of their uncle, and the worst among them are famous because of their father in law. I interpreted this in a different way. This shubhashita intends to convey the wealth.

Most respected wealth is the one you earn
That you inherit from your father is just OK
One you get from your mother is not good
And, the one you acquire from wife is the worst.
I am not sure if that were a different version of this shubhashita.

ASAD (subhAshita sangrahaH 1)

God will help provided the six qualities effort, adventure, courage, knowledge, strength and bravery exist.
Lord Sun, Lord Moon, Lord Vayu (air), Lord Agni (fire), the Sky, mother Earth.

the water (Lord Varuna), the soul, Lord Yama, both the Day and the Night.

and Dharma (the Righteousness) each one of these will know a man’s character.

Every moment, you are being watched at least by one of the above!

The discussion is with reference to recent Subhashitam posted by Raghavendra the one with UdyamasAhasaM .... etc..

Hemali Vyas disagreed with the meaning of the two words Dhairyam and SAhasam Ramakrishna from Tokyo disagreed with the Hemali’s comments.

Here is my opinion for whatever it is worth.

DhairyaM means Dheeratwa bhavaM dhee is buddhi or intellect so in contrast to sAhasaM dhairyAM must involve intellectual conviction. So in a way Hemali Vyas is right Raghavendra’s meaning that it is courage is also right.

should be courage born of intellectual conviction not emotional outburst. We all know what is right but many a time we do not have the guts to follow what is right we do what we feel (emotional driven) like doing. DhairyAM is the courage to do what is based on right understanding.
sAHasaM I will split as sa + a + hasam (I donot have a dictionary at my computer desk this may be my imagination).
has if I remember rightly means to smile or to laugh at with a in front it means opposite to be serious that one to take things seriously not jokingly with prefix sa it could mean samyk that is total or with seriously or daringly jumping into action there is no joking around in that sense SAhasaM should imply serious adventurous pursuit in contrast to DhairyAM sAHasaM need not involve intellectual conviction it could be based on just emotional outburst. So there is a possibility of one getting burned if it is not based on sound intellectual judgment.
Hence the subhashitaM says one needs both the DhairyraM and SAhasaM
Just an intellectual curiosity If I have all the six of them listed why do I need the help of the Deva
The truth of the matter is if I have all of them I already have the help of the Deva. Having all the six of them itself is by the grace of Deva too. In Vedanta Shastra, there is a preceding deity for each of the faculties like Indra for Bhuddi etc. Hence having these qualities is a grace of God too!
Hari Om!

What you have is His gift to you and what you do with what you have is your gift to Him.

There is no letter in the alphabet that cannot be used in divine poems (mantra). There exists no root which cannot be used as a medicine. Likewise, there is no useless person. The scarcity is for the one who knows how to use them!

The good men seem to be like coconuts. (Tough on the outside but soft inside). Others are like the jujube fruit, beautiful only on the outside (but sour inside).

The phrase “drishyante api” means they (coconuts) are also seen. i.e.
if you look for them hard enough, you DO find them i.e. they are scare to find. In contrast the “bera” (Hindi) or “bora” (Marathi) or berry (English) is seen a lot. i.e. good people are like coconuts, hard outside, soft inside and are scarce to find, bad people are like berries, soft outside, hard inside, and are found a lot.

ASAD (103)
The king was walking by the shore of the ocean along with the court poet who was short. On hearing the sound of the waves, the poet addressed the ocean:

Dasharath's wife, laxman's mother
What fear makes you cry?
Is it because seeing the king who is ever intent on pleasing his good friends (su mitrAnandana) or on seeing me the dwarf?
sumitrAnandana can also be broken up as su mitra Anandana (happiness of good friends.
Why should the ocean cry on seeing them? No, It is the king rAma, who is attached (Asakta) to lakShmaNa (sumitrAnandana) and the dwarfish person is agastya himself. The ocean mistakes the poet to be agastya.
Ocean is afraid of rAma as he once threatened to dry him up when attempting to cross over to lanka. The dwarfish sage agastya is said to have drank the ocean. Hence the cause for fear.

Dear Friends.
The real Humor or Joke is that the following verses are literally true. The practice and theory of medicine is completely wrong in its basis. This is true of all medicine, western, eastern, oriental or otherwise. Because, as you know, the nature follows an immutable cause and effect relationship for everything that happens. The disease is produced by its causes. The practice of medicine does not at all deal with the cause of a disease, but it only deals with palliating the symptoms of a disease, further letting the causes to continue. Another, real but sad joke is that even very intelligent people, who would otherwise investigate/reasearch everything before they practice, subscribe to the practice of medicine without questioning the logic.

Nightingales and parrots are trapped because of the fault of their own mouths. However, storks are not caught. Silence is indeed the instrument that achieves all ends.

By his(its) own mouth he (it) injures (pounds) in many ways other people (a lot of grain). My salutations to the pestle and to the wicked man whose character is to fall down. (The first line is interpreted in two ways depending on how the sandhi in bahudhAnyasya is broken)

First all of you must take a sigh of relief that I am not translating this in Russian. I have a valid comment. The interpretation is just not right. The word khala has two meanings. Kedar gives only one a wicked man. The second is a mortar. Those partisans of this list who were born in cities would not know what this article and its use is/was. It is a piece of stone, preferably, granite which is carved like a mortar. Mortar and pestle are two components of a commonly used pounding mechanism used in ages all over the world. Pounding removes chaff from grain. Its use in India declined after mechanical grain brayers were made available in cities in British rule. The use continued for some time in numerous villages or inaccessible regions. My father's house and that of all my relations had at least one. My mom, auntie and sisters would wake up early in the morning and do their chores with mortar and pestle singing songs.
The meaning as given by Kedar lacks certain truth. Why would poet, or for that matter, anybody thank a wicked man whose character is to fall down?. In chaturvarNya scheme four classes were assigned certain duties and responsibilities. When they performed such social obligations they earned the social acceptance. On this background poet takes a case of a habitually misbehaving person patanshIla and examines his contributions to the society. Even though he lacks social acceptance due to his nature, the poet opines, his peculiar behavior, actually contributes to the social needs.

Ancient Indians were taught to be polite to each other.
respectful to each other, friendly and forgiving to each other. These codes of conducts brought social harmony, but created a situation where blunt, bold actions were frowned upon. People, therefore, would get away with murder, so to say, and nobody would criticize or check their actions. Remember politeness rules. Our patanshIla was exception to this rule. Therefore, when he got mad at sombody or something he would lash out at them and separate their true selves from their alter egos. In other words he would tear the masks of dichotomous, contradictory. personalities. Poet, obviously is paying compliments to such a person. However, he cannot openly come out and praise such a man or his actions. Therefore, the poet resorts to the double talk, ambiguity.
double entendre technique. Smart person would find the true meaning behind the obvious.

Nobody writes a couplet praising mortar and pestle, they are so unpoetic. So the true meaning of this couplet is:
By his own mouth he, patanshIla, pounds most of the times people hiding behind veneers and exposes their true nature, salutions to him and his brute force ‘musala’.
